A delightful four bedroom detached character cottage situated in a peaceful rural setting with an enviable outlook across the valley to surrounding countryside.

Beautifully presented throughout this stone fronted cottage is reputed to date back to circa 1850 and the character and wealth of period features certainly lend credence to that.

Approached along a quiet country lane and located on the periphery of the rural village of Porkellis and hamlet of Burras, the cottage is conveniently situated to enjoy the benefits of rural living, whilst being relatively accessible for the arterial A30 road and mainline railway links.

A striking bespoke Gothic style front door opens into an impressive open plan lounge and dining room with exposed beams, solid wood floors, deep window seats with traditional shutters and two fabulous fireplaces. One handsome local stone Inglenook fireplace plays host to a wood burning stove, whilst the other has a decorative Rayburn, both providing focal points for each end of the room. A perfect place to sit and relax and enjoy cosy nights in during colder months.

Beyond this is a well equipped country kitchen that has been thoughtfully conceived and has an appealing range of cabinetry that blends practicality with style and is complemented by exposed stonework and a dual aspect to the side and rear gardens.

A real highlight of the cottage is the impressive master bedroom suite complete with vaulted ceiling, exposed beams and French doors which open invitingly into a balcony enjoying stunning rural views across the valley. These are complemented by a well appointed en suite shower room and a dressing area. There are three further bedrooms, two being comfortable doubles with a lovely rural outlook and one having a useful and well presented en suite shower room. The family bathroom is beautifully appointed with a part vaulted ceiling, skylight and a modern suite.

Outside, the property enjoys a lovely sunny aspect in a quiet rural setting with views across open fields to the countryside beyond. The front garden is beautifully tended, featuring a neat lawn, a pond and several inviting spots in which to sit, relax and soak up the best of country life. Mature planting and open views across the valley create a sense of space and serenity, while the rear garden offers further patio areas ideal for sitting out in the late afternoon and early evening sunshine.

Off road parking is provided for vehicles whilst a useful basement area satisfies practicalities of storage.

Delightfully tucked away and offering a true "off the beaten track" feel this country cottage is sure to appeal to discerning buyers and a viewing is wholeheartedly recommended.

The accommodation in brief comprises an entrance porch, open plan lounge & dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms (two en-suite) and a family bathroom. The cottage benefits from air source heating, some double glazing and, we are advised, FTTTP Broadband.

Porkellis is a lovely rural hamlet convenient for the towns of Helston and Falmouth with all the amenities they have to offer. The Star Inn in Porkellis is a well regarded pub whilst primary schools are available in the neighbouring hamlets of Halwin and Wendron. Stithians Reservoir and Water Sports Centre are located approximately four miles away. There are a wealth of footpaths and bridleways moments away from the property whilst the National Trust owned Porkellis Moor is nearby. Secondary education can be found both in the towns of Helston and Falmouth while the latter also has a university campus.
